

OrgAssist Test Knowledge Document

Company Overview: Acme Technologies is a software organization focused on building web applications, cloud solutions, and artificial intelligence products.

Employee Guidelines: Employees should maintain clear communication, follow security practices, and document important technical decisions.

Technology Stack: The engineering team works with Java, TypeScript, React, Node.js, PostgreSQL, and modern AI technologies including embeddings and retrieval augmented generation.

Leave Policy: Employees can request planned leave through their manager. Emergency leave should be communicated as soon as possible.

AI Assistant Purpose: The organization's AI assistant helps employees find internal information quickly by searching approved company documents and providing relevant answers.